About the PECB Anti-Bribery Conference 2021

The PECB Anti-Bribery Conference is a virtual conference that targets anti-corruption experts and enthusiasts from all over the world. Considering the importance of tackling the global crisis of corruption, this conference addressed some key issues and challenges related to the combating of bribery around the world and the importance and role of ISO 37001 and other related regulatory frameworks and standards in this regard.

For the first time ever, with a total of 12 panels and over 3,000 registrants, the PECB Anti-Bribery Conference features sessions in three languages: French, English, and Spanish.

“Another highly informative PECB Conference comes to an end. With an amazingly stellar selection of panelists and moderators, this Anti-Bribery Conference provided some key insights into the latest trends and developments in the world of Anti-Bribery and ISO 37001. What can organizations do to end the impact corruption has in everyone’s lives? What can the society do in this regard? What measures need to be taken to prevent and combat bribery? For these and many other questions you might have, or seek to get thorough answers to, our experts provided detailed information in the virtual roundtable discussions of the conference.”

Eric Lachapelle, CEO of PECB
2020 has brought on one of the biggest challenges for individuals and businesses alike; the COVID-19 pandemic has caused many difficulties for organizations to function properly and remotely. This session covers all the different ways that the COVID-19 pandemic has affected the fight against corruption and how different organizations have taken precautionary steps to continue this fight.
Anti-Bribery and Whistleblowing: Can You Have One without the Other?

Language: English

This session discusses the relationship between whistleblowing and the fight against corruption. Furthermore, the panelists share their expertise and opinions on whether this relationship is symbiotic or not.
The term “kleptocracy” refers to a state ruled by unrestrained political corruption. This panel addresses all the different ways that organizations and individuals alike can fight corruption in a state of kleptocracy, with a specific focus on Latin America.
The new Sapin II law in France is aimed at significantly strengthening and improving the anti-corruption system currently in place in France. Panelists discuss the success of this fairly new law, while at the same time discussing the ways that it can take the fight against corruption to a new level.
The new Anti-Money Laundering Act in the US will have numerous implications for shell companies that launder money around the globe. The panelists in this session discuss those implications and the effect that will be noticed in the coming years. Ethical considerations of shell companies will also be discussed in this panel.

Language: English

The Panelists

Frederic Miller

Karl Schleps

Mary Gentile

Michele Magri

Ralph Bengtsson
Anti-Bribery and the Importance of Transparency and Access to Public Information

Language: Spanish

This conference session discusses just how crucial transparency is in the fight against corruption and all the different ways that access to public information helps to raise awareness for this fight.

The Moderator
Carlos Flores Roca

The Panelists
Fernando Cevallos
Claudio Rodríguez
Raúl González
Pedro Roberto Chale Paucar
Carlo Vargas
ISO 37001 sets the standard for the fight against corruption; however, with a dynamic world that is constantly evolving, it is important to understand what the future holds for this standard. The panelists provide an overview of the standard so far, and they share their expectations for the next four years.
Can We Eradicate Corruption through Blockchain Technology?

Language: English

Blockchain technology is becoming more and more reliant every day. Its popularity and usage has also increased in recent years. This session discusses the possibility of fighting and eliminating corruption altogether by using this fairly new technology.
The Integration of Citizen Participation in the Fight against Corruption

Language: Spanish

This session covers the importance of integrating citizen participation in winning the fight against corruption. Furthermore, the panelists discuss any possible drawbacks to this approach, and its overall advantages and disadvantages.
Sporadic vs. Systemic Corruption: The Mechanisms That Are Crippling the World Economy

Language: French

There are two prominent forms of corruption, sporadic and systemic corruption. This session delves deeper into both of them and discusses their crippling impact on the world economy. Panelists also discuss the ways that these forms of corruption can be fought.
There are new discoveries being made with each passing day regarding AI and Cryptocurrencies. This panel discusses the possible ways that these advancements in technology will help to combat corruption, while also discussing some of the drawbacks of using them.
Is an End to Corruption in Latin America Possible?

Language: Spanish

A world without corruption is the ultimate goal. However, would such a world be possible to achieve? This session discusses this very possibility with a specific focus in Latin America by providing different viewpoints based on the panelists’ expert opinions.
The Upcoming PECB Insights Conference 2021

November 15–16, 2021

For more information regarding our upcoming virtual conference, click here or contact us at events@pecb.com.